Cedarmere Elementary Inspired By Inauguration

REISTERSTOWN, MD – On Tuesday, January 20, 2009, the Cedarmere Elementary School community will celebrate the inauguration of our nation's 44th president, Barack Obama. Cedarmere students, parents, and staff will look to sustain the enthusiasm created by our recent national election by gathering in a community setting in the gymnasium and cafeteria to watch the inauguration ceremony as it occurs. Throughout the week leading up to the inauguration and during the day on the 20th, students will engage in a variety of activities to learn about the presidency and about their role in the political process. Principal Stephen Coco comments, "This is an opportunity to expand our children's knowledge of the civic process and responsibility while experiencing an historic occasion in our country's history." This event will begin a new tradition at Cedarmere Elementary.
