

American Education Week

Great Public Schools: A Basic Right and Our Responsibility

American Education Week is planned for the week of November 16. The days for your suggested classroom visit are listed on the Grange calendar. Teachers will send home additional information about specific times to see your child work in the classroom.

The annual Book Fair will also be held during American Education Week. Students will have an opportunity to visit the Book Fair at designated times on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. Thursday and Friday are days to buy. We have also added Thursday, November 19 evening from 5:30 PM– 7:30 PM for you to come to Grange and make purchases. Books make practical Christmas gifts and are always appreciated. Don't miss this opportunity! All proceeds come back to our school.

Our assembly, The Amazing Food Detective theatrical performance sponsored by Kaiser Permanente, was unfortunately postponed in October when one of the actors became suddenly ill. But, they'll be back! The assembly for Grades K thru 3 will be held beginning 9:30 on Friday, November 20, Grandparent's Day!!

American Education Week is a wonderful time to show your involvement. Your children get so excited as they wait for you to visit.
